

Cleaver Fulton Rankin

Cleaver Fulton Rankin is one of Northern Ireland's leading corporate law firms combining over 100 years of heritage with an innovative approach. We're conveniently located in Belfast city centre and employ 15 Directors, 14 Associates, 7 Solicitors and 12 trainees and paralegals with a total staff of approximately 100 people.

We provide a full legal service to both commercial and private clients. In particular we have extensive experience in advising national and local private companies, developers, financial institutions, public institutions and quasi- public bodies, not for profit organisations and other government funded organisations.
